

Retrieving pattern updates for Ravelry members

All of the patterns available from the Woolly Wormhead website are hosted and delivered by Ravelry.com. If you are a Ravelry member, you have the option of saving your pattern purchase to your library even if it is purchased from WoollyWormhead.com. This handy guide will show you can retrieve updates to your purchases through your Ravelry account.

1. Firstly, log in to your Ravelry account. All of your purchases are stored in the Purchases section of your Notebook. Click on the My Notebook tab and it can be found at the bottom of the menu on the left hand side.

2. Inside the Purchases section you will find a list of all the purchases you have made through Ravelry.com. For me, that mostly means advertising or pattern sales bills! The 2nd column in from the right is the one that's most relevant, as it tells you if the purchase applies to a pattern PDF.

3. Scroll down to the purchase that wish to check for updates – you will see the little PDF icon, click on the 'view' link next to it.

The screenshot shows the Ravelry website interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'ravelry' logo and links like 'my notebook', 'patterns', 'yarns', 'people', 'forums', 'groups', 'shop'. Below that, the breadcrumb trail reads 'purchases > anne-marie dunbar designs > order #59982'. On the right, there are tabs for 'your receipt' and '8 pattern updates'. The main content area is titled 'ravelry downloads' and shows details for 'Anne-Marie Dunbar Designs' sold to 'Woolly Wormhead' on December 7, 2008. A green box indicates '1 PDF is stored in your Ravelry library'. Below this, there's a section for 'File 1 of 1: Dracoclava.pdf' with 'download file' and 'store in library' buttons.

4. Now you will see your receipt for the purchase, indicating when you purchased it and whom you purchased it from. If there are any updates for this pattern, there will be an Update tab next to the Receipt tab. The update tab will show for any updates to the pattern, whether you've received an update email or not.

This screenshot is similar to the previous one but shows the 'Updates' tab selected. The breadcrumb trail is the same. The 'your receipt' tab is now greyed out, and the '6 pattern updates' tab is active. The main content area shows the 'ravelry downloads' section with the purchase details. A new section titled 'Pattern Update: September 16, 2009' is visible, indicating a recent update to the pattern. The 'File 1 of 1: Dracoclava.pdf' section remains at the bottom.

5. Clicking on the Updates tab will bring up a list of any relevant updates, with the latest at the top. There will be the option for adding to your library and downloading for each update. If there are more than one updates you will likely only need the latest one, but the older updates may be useful, especially if you wish to trace the original file. And there you have it – your pattern updates!
